

2023-24 Calendar Survey

75 responses

Publish analytics

What was your assessment of this year's academic calendar? (See current calendar here).

75 responses

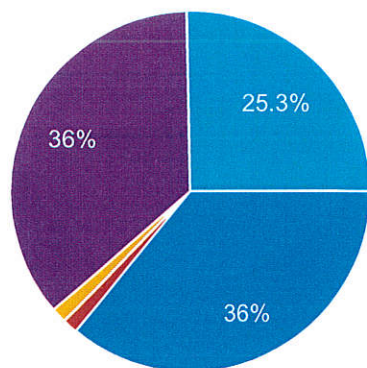

- The calendar was very good
- The calendar was adequate
- The calendar was inadequate
- The calendar was very bad
- No opinion

This year staff professional development days were generally scheduled on Mondays. What day of the week works best for your family for these state-required development days next year?

75 responses

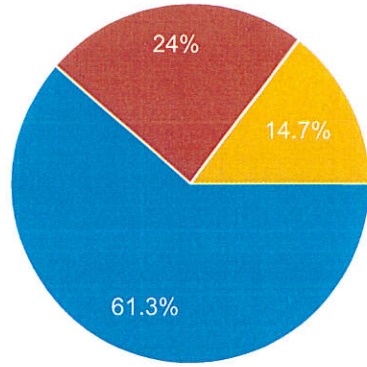

- Monday
- Tuesday
- Wednesday
- Thursday
- Friday
- No opinion

Often this year, staff professional development days were added to the end of a vacation (winter vacation, mid-winter vacation, spring vacation). Would you prefer we continue this practice next year or discontinue it meaning professional development days will occur separate from longer breaks.

75 responses

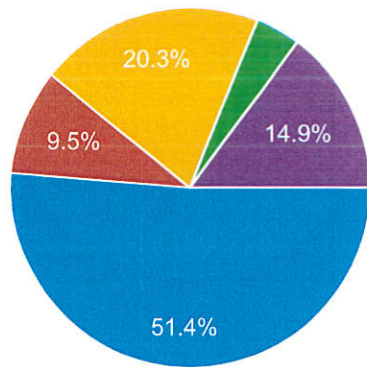

- Continue to schedule vacations and professional development days together
- Discontinue scheduling vacations and professional development days together
- No opinion

This year's mid-winter break was six days long (including the weekend and a staff development day). In your opinion, next year's mid-winter break:

74 responses

- Should be the same as this year's
- Should be longer than this year's
- Should be shorter than this year's
- Should be eliminated
- No opinion

